

BANDITS FOILED.

ONE TRAIN ROBBER KILLED
AND FOUR CAPTURED.

ANOTHER ONE FATALLY WOUNDED.

Depository Attempt to Hold Up the Burlington and Missouri River Train at St. Joseph and Meet With a Warm Reception. The Outcome Has Been Wounded and Were Ready.

St. Joseph, Mo., Sept. 25.—The market men made an attempt to hold up the No. 1 north bound train on the Burlington & Missouri river railroad, which was due to leave the Union depot here at 11:35 last night.

The plot ended in failure for the robbers, in the death of one of them and the fatal wounding of another.
Three others were captured, while the sixth made his escape.

Just before the train was due to leave the officials of the road learned of the plot to rob it and had their plans to frustrate the robbers and capture them if possible.

The regular train was held at the depot and a dummy, similar to it in appearance, was made up, having on board a squad of sixteen policemen heavily armed.

When the train reached the water tank, three miles north of the city, as was said, it was stopped, and the engineers, obeying his orders, brought his train to a standstill at once.

The robbers had their plans well laid and at once proceeded to the express car and ordered the messenger to open it. The unexpected response was a volley from the police who were on the train.

Instead of taking to their heels the robbers showed fight and then began a battle royal. The six men in the gang fired sixteen shots at the officers on the train, but wounded none of them.

The aim of the police was better, for almost at the first fire one of the robbers fell, pierced through the heart with a ball, and a moment later another of the gang hit the west with a wound in his breast which will prove fatal.

When their two companions fell the remaining four robbers attempted to make their escape, but the police were in hot pursuit and only one succeeded in getting away.

Three were quickly captured and taken aboard the train, together with the dead and dying robbers, and brought to this city.

Investigation immediately revealed where the news was heard and the crowd soon gathered around the police station, where the robbers were.

The wounded man, it is believed, cannot live twenty-four hours. A posse is out on the trail of the robber who escaped and it is thought he will be taken.

Train Crew Carry Wincchester.

Tombstone, Ont., Sept. 25.—The recent train robbery at Kendallville, Ind., and Haverock, Mich., have aroused the Canadian express companies to a Beverly sense of the danger that threatens their side of the border. It has been decided to run crews on every express train with Winchester rifles. Other precautions of a desperate nature have also been taken, but their nature the management refuse to reveal.

REMOVED BY SATOLLI.

The Aged Archbishop Kenrick of St.
Louis Is Deceased.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 25.—Last night a private dispatch was received here from Washington stating in positive terms that Monsignor Satolli had deceased Archbishop Kenrick. A call at the archiepiscopal residence by a reporter was fruitless. Father Connelly, about whose appointment as vicar general the whole controversy has arisen, was seen at the residence, but declined to affirm or deny truth of the rumor. Several priests were called upon. One of them, who is said to have been a close confidant of the committee that visited Monsignor Satolli at Baltimore last week, said it was probable the rumored deposing of aged archbishop was a fact.

Arrived at Outbreak Nipped.

VIENNA, Sept. 25.—A report of Anarchists here continue and the police are more than ever convinced that the riot they made yesterday, when a number of Anarchist bombs, revolvers and leather coats for carrying bombs were gathered, nipped a wholesale Anarchist outbreak in the bud.

The Czars Successors.

REHIN, Sept. 25.—It is rumored here that the czar of Russia will after the succession to the throne, making the Grand Duke Michael, his youngest son, his successor. It is supposed that the reason for this step is that the czarowitz is of so sulky a nature and is totally without force of character.

Sees the Pullman Company.

GALVESTON, Tex., Sept. 25.—Ex-Cofessor of Customs N. W. Cuneo, a colored man, has brought suit in the United States court here against the Pullman Palace Car company for refusing to sell him a sleeper berth in the Galveston-Houston train a year ago.

Mustin Washed and 150 Men Lost.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 25.—Fragments of woodwork, coats and other wreckage have floated ashore in the Gulf of Finland, showing that the Russian war ship Mustin, with 150 officers and 1500 men, has foundered and that all hands are lost.

Raps of the Fair.

GUTHRIE, Sept. 25.—A drizzling rain, which fell the greater part of the day, kept people from the fair yesterday.
The usual Sunday crowd did not venture out, and the attendance was even smaller than usual.

THE WEEK IN CONGRESS.

The chances of unconditional repeal seem to be growing less.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—The situation in the senate, as day after day passes, fails to show encouragement for those who are making the battle for unconditional repeal. It is only a dispassionate statement of the truth to say that the repeal forces are apparently no nearer victory than they were ten days ago; that it does not appear that they have made a convert in the senate for two weeks, and that the prospect for unconditional repeal is not so bright as it was when the repeal bill passed the house with the unusually large majority a month ago.

The senate will again this week prove its claim to be called a deliberative body. The week will be given entirely to speech-making unless the unexpected should happen. The debate, or sessions beginning at 11 o'clock and closing at 6 o'clock announced by Mr. Voorhees Friday went into effect today and is to continue during the entire week if no longer.
It is understood that while this truth remains, there is to be no effort, as on Thursday, to force a vote on the repeal bill by sudden tactics. In view of this circumstance and of the additional fact that silver men are still resolute, there is no chance for a matterial change of program unless it should come through a compromise.

The house will devote its entire attention for the coming week to the Tucker bill for the repeal of the federal election law. The debate will run, according to the special order adopted on Friday, throughout this week and next and until Tuesday, October 10, of the week following.

Mr. Tucker of Virginia will have charge of the debate on the Democratic side and Mr. Johnson of North Dakota on the Republican side. It is probable that the debate will be of an exceedingly lively character. The reconstruction period will be lived over again, and Tammany and John L.
Gibson will put a prominent figure front of the Democratic members.

again, and Tammany and John L.
front of the Democratic members.

Most of those who supported the repeal which deprived these committees of clerks came from locations at some distance from Washington and the members absent alluded to proposals to test the sincerity of their professions.

The members who are cut off from what they consider their rightful perquisites of their positions now propose to retaliate by moving against the foundations of what they term "the reformers." They intend to offer a bill or resolution to abolish, or at least cut down, the mileage allowance of members. Under the present law the members receive the extreme West

BOLD DYNAMITERS.

THEY BLOW UP GENERAL MAR-TINEZ CAMPOS.

HIS HORSE KILLED UNDER HIM.

While Reviewing His Soldiers Two Bombs Were Thrown at Him in an Ambush, and He Sustained Serious Wounds.
— Campos Had Made a House of King and Was Spain's Greatest Military Hero.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 25.—A tremendous sensation was caused here yesterday by an attempt to murder General Martinez Campos, the famous Spanish commander, ex-president of the commonwealth, and the man who made the nation's prominence which gave the throne of Spain to Alfonso XII. General Martinez Campos was present at a review of the troops of this district and, surrounded by a brilliant staff, he watched the maneuvers and apparently highly pleased with the appearance of the troops.

The troops had already commenced the march past, when a wild, excited looking man was noticed to be pushing his way through the crowd nearest to the staff of the general.

Suddenly the man pulled what appeared to be a ball from the right hand pocket of his trousers and threw it at General Campos. A terrific explosion followed. Before the report had died away and while people were too terrified to move, the man took another strange ball from the inside pocket of his coat and hurled it at the general, who was then crouching upon the ground. He again a man in the crowd struck the bomb thrower's arm just as the second equally missile was thrown, and while it resounded among the staff officers, it did not fall close to General Martinez Campos.

Then the man who had thrown the first bomb staggered and the crowd in the ground, half a dozen people holding him down until the staff officer's sword cut around the protruding arm of the general.

One of the horses or "petards," as they are known here, was killed and he was killed under the horse upon which he was riding. The horse was killed and the general was thrown from the ground. The force of the explosion shattered into a bleeding mass the four legs of the horse and also tore the general's uniform. The wounds were so severe that the general was unable to stand.

SAY THEY'RE NOT AFRAID.

That New York Capitalists Take Precautions for Their Own Safety.

New York, Sept. 25.—Naturally all this hubbub about anarchists and their threats to force capitalists to disgorge hoarded millions has disturbed the money kings of New York just a little. The condition of the masses is discussed often in the millionaires' clubs, and the situation reviewed and the actual problem solved from the standpoint of the man of millions.
But while the moneyed men of New York will tell you that they have not the slightest fear of danger to person, or property, from the alleged great army of hungry men in the slums of New York, they will admit that they have taken precautions.

One of the first discoveries made by a reporter was that Collis P. Humberston, the railroad magnate, and Co-nelius Vanderbilt had been notified quite recently by an alleged anarchist that they were to be blown away by that pet of the anarchists the dynamite bomb. It was learned from one of the young gentlemen employed in a confidential capacity of the Central Postal department that Mr. Cornelius Vanderbilt received an anonymous letter to the effect that his new house on Fifth avenue and Kitty street was in danger.
One of the workmen at the yet unfinished residence also discovered a card with the words "Covered entrance to the building."

Anything pertaining to the destruction of property, or threats against Vanderbilt or any of his friends or assistants, is at once reported to Special Agent Byrnes and the nuisance ceases at once.

FUN IN THE HOUSE.

A COMIC OPERA SCENE ON
FROM INDIANA.

CONGRESSMAN BRETZ AGGRIEVED.

Rises to a Question of Privilege to Debate an Attempt to Repeal the $15 Over a Fourteen Days' Postoffice. Stewart Charges the President With Violating
the Constitution.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—A scene from a comic opera couldn't have been more amusing than that upon which the House of Representatives met Saturday. The plot, involving the Indiana Politics, "the plot" involving the trials and tribulations attending the efforts of congressmen to secure the denunciation of objectionable fourth-class postmasters. Mr. Bretz of Indiana was the aggrieved person and Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Maxwell the object of his indignation.

Rising to a question of personal privilege, Mr. Bretz explained that soon after the inauguration he had filed charges against James Hazenroth, postmaster at Celestine, Ind., on the ground of incompetency. In proof of this charge he had sent to the clerk's desk and read the letter which he had filed with the charge. The letter was written by Hazenroth soon after the Republicans came into power in 1889, and furnished a model illustration of the atrocious alacrity with which some fourth-class postmasters turn their political coats with changes of administration. The letter was written in English, but was closely to German idioms, and the reading clerk, who entered heartily into the spirit of the affair, read the letter in dialect, to the great amusement of the house. In the letter the writer pledged himself perpetually to the cause of Republicanism.
Mr. Bretz said that the fourth assistant postmaster general had refused to act upon his letter. The house could not exactly see where the question of privilege came in and Mr.
Hazenroth, the speaker's attention to this fact.

"Oh, let him go on," protested Mr.
Cannon of Illinois. "He may be preparing to bring impeachment against Mr. Maxwell."

Mr. Bretz replied that he was coming to the question of privilege and thereupon presented another letter, which was read, addressed to himself on September 14 by Hazenroth, in which a copy of it was offered by the writer if Mr. Bretz would permit him to continue to read the letter.
The chosen extract of the letter was as follows:
